

PARENTING PLAN WORKSHEET

Date: _____

Print and complete this worksheet to facilitate discussion and development of a parenting plan. You may alter the content to meet your needs. As children grow and time moves on, you may have to revisit and adapt portions of this agreement to suit new circumstances. If you can anticipate changes, discuss them and include potential solutions for when the circumstances arise. However, allow flexibility and agreement to modify the parenting plan as not all situations can be predicted.

This document may be used in discussion between parents or with a counselor, mediator, lawyer, etc. To make this plan legally binding, consult your lawyer.

This document is not necessarily exhaustive of all issues involved in developing a parenting plan. Users are therefore advised to seek professional input prior to a final agreement.

2. The parent who initiates action shall be initially responsible for any costs pending alternate agreement made by the parties, or through the process or by Court Order.
3. In conducting any of the above strategies, the parties shall empower the service provider to collect such information from third parties as in their discretion, may assist in resolving the dispute.
4. If any dispute cannot be resolved by the parties though any of the above strategies, it may be resolved by a court of competent jurisdiction on application of either party or, upon agreement by the parties, by arbitration.

COMMUNICATION

The parents will communicate with each other through:

- Telephone Mother: _____ Father: _____
- Email Mother: _____ Father: _____
- Face to Face: _____
- Communication book: _____
- Other: _____

Communications will be brief and relate only to issues at hand. Neither parent shall communicate in a discourteous manner with the other. Communication book, emails or any other permanent record of communication may be used in mediation, arbitration or a court proceeding. As such, parents are advised to be cautious with respect to the content of the permanent record.

RIGHTS

The following are the rights of a parent when a child is not in the care of that parent:

1. The right to unimpeded telephone conversations with each child at least _____ times a day/week at reasonable times and for reasonable duration.
2. The right to send mail or email to each child that the other parent will not open or censor.
3. The right to receive notice and relevant information as soon as practicable but within twenty-four (24) hours of any event of hospitalization, major illness or death of a child.

REVIEW

As children grow, their needs change. Also the circumstance or situation of parents can change. As such it will be necessary to review this Parenting Plan Agreement from time to time. The parents therefore agree that either may request a review of this Parenting Plan Agreement. Suggested minimal guidelines for reviews are:

- o For children under 2 years of age, the plan may require review on a more regular basis, but generally of no shorter duration than every 3 months.
- o For toddlers and preschoolers, the plan may be reviewed at intervals of no less than every 6 months.
- o For elementary school aged children the plan may be reviewed at yearly intervals.
- o For adolescent children, the Parenting Plan may alter quite regularly, but now with less concern to the parent’s schedule and more concern and input as to the adolescents’ schedule.

The parents agree NOT to use the process of review to simply undermine or interfere with the Parenting Plan as already established. Rather, review will be subject to developmental needs of the children or material change in a parent’s circumstance or situation that would make the present plan unworkable.

DECLARATION

We declare that this plan has been developed in good faith and is in the best interest of the child(ren). We sign it on a without prejudice basis, pending independent legal advice.
